They are awesome stoves. Easy to operate too. I paid 250 for mine, i wanted and older looking stove, thought that was cheap enough. I have had mine for a while and love it. I did notice 2 cracks last night but they are right in the middle of the back wall of the stove. I got to looking and they are where the air inlet channel is going straight down the back of the stove, so since the inlet is at the bottom I am not too concerned. I do have a manual, its a PDF. Give me your email address and i will send it to you. But the manual is for the 101 / 105. Was hoping to find one for the 100. You're right, I just changed the wiki label for that file. Is there a lot of difference between the 101 and the 100? And I ain't crabby, well not today at least. Shirley you knew that? Toggle signature PE Alderlea T6, Jotul F602 The most important tool in the wood burning process and the largest variable is the one that is running the stove. Crabby, just a bit of difference, and I'm one of those that needs those specific details. No prob! Just really trying to find that manual. 3 kids & a wife I don't want to kill by installing it wrong. Would have chosen that name too, but u took it! And yes, crabby today, just cause I can be! Thx 4 all ur help! No dice? Don't have or know anyone with the 100 manual? Anyone have one or have any suggestions on where I can find one? I dont think they still offer them lennox stopped supporting old pre-epa models some time ago.... Toggle signature slinger I have the PDF file for the 101/105 Earth Stove. If anyone needs it, give me one. The Earth is no closer. They were bought by Lennox and basically fell. Here is a place that sells a lot of Stove land pieces, including aftermarket fans and blowers: .html My ES 705 has a metal box back blinking that rolls up over the top with a roller fan at the bottom. It's noisy, and I don't use it. I use a blower box blowing from one side instead. You're right, I just changed the wiki tag to the file. Is there a lot of difference between 101 and 100? And I'm not a crab, not today at least. Shirley, did you know that? Dear begreen, I found this forum while searching for a manual for my Earth Stove 100 ICBD 3340 series. I tried to find the manual you posted on the wiki, but couldn't. Can you redirect me to him? I'd be grateful... I just bought a house with the stove on it and I'm new to all the things that the oriented wood stove. It seems to be in great condition and the seller said it was, but I still want to check it out totally. And to clarify, is there a big difference between the 100-series and a 101/105? Regardless, I would love to see a manual for 100 or the other. Thank you!
